

Snow White & the Seven Dwarfs

Friday 11th Dec 2009 to Sun 3rd Jan 2010

Mirror, mirror on the wall – which is the best panto of them all?
Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs at the Princes Hall this Christmas - of course!

Fabulous sets, stunning costumes, fantastic dancers, a great script and wonderful cast come together to make this a truly magical production. While excellent songs, music and dance numbers, and an unforgettable friendly atmosphere all go into making the Princes Hall pantomime a great family Christmas tradition.

This enchanting story tells a tale of a beautiful young princess, poisoned by a magical apple from the Wicked Queen, but who is saved by a valiant Prince who tries to wake her with a kiss of true love.

So, 'Hi Ho, Hi Ho it's off to Princes Hall we go' in this brand new, action-packed panto that is fun for all the family!

Will the dwarfs overcome the Wicked Queen's magic spells? Will Snow White meet her Prince Charming? Will the Wicked Queen end up the fairest in the land? All will be revealed this Christmas, so book your tickets now to experience the magic and excitement of this year's enchanting pantomime!

Edward Haversham, Marketing and Box Officer Manager at the Princes Hall, said "This is the first time in thirty-eight years of panto at the Princes Hall, that we are staging Snow White & the Seven Dwarfs. Everyone from management, to cast and crew are really excited about the production. Tickets have been selling since January and Snow White is already looking like a record breaking panto, so people need to secure their tickets sooner rather than later!"

As ever, the Princes Hall pantomime cast is made up of a talented ensemble of actors, many of whom return from last year's smash hit show Peter Pan. These include the unforgettable Donovan Christian Cary (winner of Encore Magazine 'Best Dame' award in 2006) who exploded onto the stage as the 'Tigerlily' and Alex Minns (Posh AI from 96.4 Eagle), as the 'west country' 'Myrtle The Mermaid', as well as producer and director Robert Hopkins. You won't find B-list celebrities hogging the limelight and pushing up ticket prices at the Princes Hall. As tickets are only £13.50 for children and seniors, and £14.50 for adults, plus discounts are available for groups.

Customer comments from last year's smash hit show Peter Pan:

"Just brilliant – one of the best pantos I've seen (and I'm 53!)"

"Fantastic – the best panto ever!"

"Christmas wouldn't be the same without your panto"
